A DERANGED son has pleaded guilty to chopping up his dad with a circular saw and dumping the dismembered bits in a skip behind a shop.

Cops found the bloodsoaked electric saw with the remains of 50-year-old Aron Reeves. They later found the saw's instruction manual and packaging at the home of his 27-year-old son, also called Aron, who now faces life in prison.

Sunak on attack over Albanians

RISHI Sunak has promised more staff to help clear the UK's backlog of asylum seekers by the end of next year.

Under a plan unveiled by the prime minister, a dedicated unit of 400 specialists will be set up to handle claims from Albanians.

UK border officials will also be posted in Albania, under a new agreement with the country.

There will also be 700 staff for a new unit to monitor small boats crossing the English Channel.

Mr Sunak also announced plans to house 10,000 asylum seekers waiting on claims in disused holiday parks, former student halls, and surplus military sites.

The asylum backlog has ballooned in recent years, with the number of people awaiting an initial decision on their application standing at 143,377.

Mortgages set for £3,000 rise

AROUND four million mortgage holders could see monthly payments jump at the end of the next year as the risk of households defaulting on debt has risen, the Bank of England says.

People with a fixed-rate home loan due to expire at the end of 2023 are facing an increase in their monthly repayments of around £250 because they will have to refinance onto a higher rate.

This could mean that costs surge by £3,000 a year for many households who are already seeing their finances stretched by increased living costs.

Members of the Rail, Maritime and Transport (RMT) union are pressing ahead with two strikes at Network Rail – and 14 train companies. One started yesterday and another begins on Friday.

EURO MPS ACCUSED OF CORRUPTION ...NOBODY SURPRISED

GREEK MEP Eva Kaili has denied involvement in an alleged bribery scandal involving World Cup host Qatar at the European Parliament.

She is one of four suspects charged, after Belgian investigators found large sums in cash in homes and a suitcase. MEPs have voted - by 625 to one - to strip Ms Kaili of her role as one of its 14 vice-presidents.

Parliament leader Roberta Metsola has spoken of "difficult days for European democracy". Qatar has denied any wrongdoing.

"Eva Kaili declares her innocence and that she has nothing to do with bribery from Qatar," her lawyer Michalis Dimitrakopoulos told Greek TV.

Prosecutors carried out a string of searches over several days and said cash worth about £515,000 had been found at the home of one suspect, 150,000 euros at the flat of an MEP and several hundred thousand euros in a suitcase in a Brussels hotel room.

Computers and mobile phones were also taken.

Asked if money had been found at Ms Kaili's apartment, her lawyer said: "I have no idea if any money was found or how much was found."

The suspects arrested by Belgian police have been charged with "participation in a criminal organisation, money laundering and corruption", prosecutors said on Sunday. They will appear before a pre-trial court on Wednesday.

The three others are all thought to be Italians, including Pier Antonio Panzeri, an Italian former MEP who now runs a human rights group.

Boy, 6, fights for life after lake horror

A SIX-YEAR-OLD boy who fell through ice into a lake in Solihull is still fighting for his life, as one of the three children who died was named locally.

Mourners left flowers, balloons, soft toys and lit candles at a vigil held on Monday night following the deaths of three boys aged eight, 10 and 11.

One of those who died has been named as 10-year-old Jack Johnson, who has been described as a "hero" because he went into the lake to try to save others.

The boys fell through the ice into Babbs Mill lake in the West Midlands along with a fourth boy, aged six.

Police said on Tuesday morning he was still in a critical condition in hospital.

He was pulled from the water by emergency crews, including a police officer who tried to punch through ice during the rescue efforts.

West Midlands Police said nobody else had been reported missing.

Jobless up as vacancies fall

BRITAIN'S unemployment has risen again and the number of vacancies fell back further in a sign of a weakening jobs market as the UK faces deepening economic gloom, official figures have shown.

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) said the rate of UK unemployment rose to 3.7% in the three months to October, up from 3.6% in the previous quarter.

The data also showed vacancies dropped by 65,000 in the three months to November to 1.9 million – the fifth quarterly fall in a row and the first annual fall since the beginning of last year.

The figures signalled that more people are choosing to return to work, with the inactivity rate falling to 21.5% as those in their 50s go back as costs rise.

STANDSTILL BRITAIN

A MONTH of rail chaos has begun, with workers walking out in the first of a wave of 48-hour strikes, as nurses also take industrial action.

Members of the Rail, Maritime and Transport (RMT) union are pressing ahead with two strikes at Network Rail – and 14 train companies. One started yesterday and another begins on Friday.

Asked if there is a glimmer of hope in the negotiations, Network Rail chief executive Andrew Haines said: "It's hard to see that today. I've learned, you know, through a long career, that sometimes country will have no services, including most of Scotland and Wales.

But with further walkouts planned, Network Rail has warned of significantly reduced services, with trains more crowded and likely to start later and finish earlier until January 8.

Asked if there is a glimmer of hope in the negotiations, Network Rail chief executive Andrew Haines said: "It's hard to see that today. I've learned, you know, through a long career, that sometimes the light is just around the corner.

"But where I stand today, I'd have to say that with the level of disruption the RMT are imposing, the way forward isn't obvious.

But Transport Secretary Mark Harper said "almost 40%" of RMT members at Network Rail voted in favour of an offer to resolve the dispute despite "a very clear instruction from their union leadership".

Taxpayers

He said: "I think the tide is turning on people seeing that the offers we have made are reasonable, taking into account the interest of taxpayers."

The RMT said 63.6% voted to reject Network Rail's offer on an 83% turnout.

The Office for National Statistics said 417,000 working days were lost to labour disputes in October, which is the highest since November 2011.

Meanwhile, the continuing cold snap is adding to the misery for travellers.

Freezing temperatures mean travel conditions will remain difficult in some areas of the UK, the Met Office says.

Three yellow weather warnings were in place across the UK for ice. They affected the east and south-east of England, most of Northern Ireland, the north-east of England, and northern Scotland.

KETAMINE TRIAL TO BEAT BOOZE

A PROGRAMME of therapy involving the party drug ketamine will be made available to alcoholics in a research project.

The University of Exeter-led trial, with funding of £2.4m, will go ahead at seven NHS sites across the UK.

The trial will look into whether a combination of ketamine and therapy could help alcoholics stay sober for longer. Prof

Celia Morgan, the academic behind the research, said there was an "urgent need" for new treatments.

The research will go ahead after a trial showed ketamine and therapy was safe and tolerable for heavy drinkers.

Participants who had ketamine combined with therapy stayed sober to their six-month follow-up.

The trial will now move to the next step of drug development, with the aim of rolling it out into the NHS if it proves effective.

Prof Morgan, from the University of Exeter, said: "More than two million UK adults have serious alcohol problems, yet only one in five of those get treatment.

"Three out of four people who quit alcohol will be back drinking heavily after a year."

SHE'S GOT A PAIR!

A POKER player flopped her TIT out during an important game... only for it to turn out to be a prank.

Sashimi, who is also known for her exploits on YouTube, was taking part in a live stream event called "Max Pain Monday".

During the game, she appeared to suffer a nip-slip while competing next to her opponents.

And the poker game commentator was very quick to pick up on the awkward moment.

He could be heard saying: "Sashimi, come on, please."

"I'm looking away from the screen right now... are you, guys? Sashimi... come on, please."

However, it turned out she was actually wearing fake prosthetic breasts as part of a joke aimed to distract her competitors.

But those online did not know it was all a ruse when they reacted on social media, with most people seeing the funny side.

One person said: "This is actually a really good strategy."

Another added: "Did she win? That's one hell of a distraction!"

Meanwhile, a third responded: "That's what we in the poker business call 'a tell'."

JACK SEX SHOP SHOCK

JACK Whitehall has revealed his stand-up comedy career in the USA almost fell at the first hurdle...when his agent booked him for a gig in a SEX SHOP!

The Bad Education star said: "I got to the address – it was a sex shop in West Hollywood."

It transpired the shop featured a "quirky comedy night" out the back. "It was like 30 seats set out in the middle of an active sex shop with people looking around," he added.

To make matters worse, staff asked if he was there for the comedy. Panicked, he said no.

"So I had to browse," he cringed. "I did some window shopping, and then walked out."

PM sorry for calling rival MP a 'prick'

NEW Zealand's PM has been forced to apologise after calling a rival MP an "arrogant prick".

Jacinda Ardern (above) was heard whispering an insult about David Seymour, leader of the ACT Party, on a microphone as she sat down after answering his questions in their parliament.

"We've always made decisions which we believed to be in the best interests of NZ at the time," Ms Ardern said, then added, "Such an arrogant prick."

Public support for Ms Ardern has tumbled in recent months and her approval rating is at its lowest level since she took office more than five years ago.

She clearly lost her temper after Mr Seymour hammered her with a series of questions.

It's understood that Ms Ardern later sent Mr Seymour a text message to say sorry.

Pair broke into pool for romp

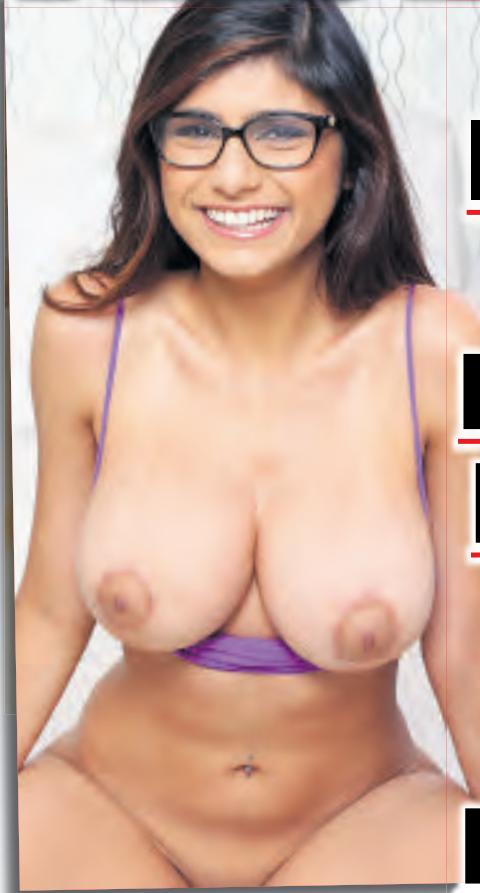

AN estate agent stumbled across a naked couple romping in the swimming pool of a home she was about to show a client.

The agent pulled up to the empty property in Davenport, Florida, and was startled to see a car in the driveway.

Knowing that no-one was authorised to be there, she called cops.

The intruders, who were charged with trespassing, told officers at the scene they had come to the home just to have sex.

century, even though most of his pictures of people had wonky heads and sideways mouths.

And Mia, 29, who now makes a living from OnlyFans and YouTube, took to Instagram to share three snaps of the artwork with her 27.7m followers.

The first shot, in black and white, shows the PornHub beauty posing in nothing but oversized platform shoes while she covers her modesty with the framed picture by the Spanish surrealist.

She captioned the pics: "Art heist, Picasso edition. Can't believe this little brown girl from Lebanon has a Picasso hung on her wall. Really feels like an art heist to accomplish this."

Fans loved what they saw with one commenting: "The only work of art in these pictures, my dear, is you."

Another quipped: "You

MOVIE KATE'S PLOP HORROR

HOLLYWOOD beauty Kate Winslet has spilled the beans on the humiliating moment she almost suffered a loo blunder while naked on stage during a play.

The actress, 47 (left), was in a production at Manchester's Royal Exchange Theatre when she "nearly did a poo on stage".

She was on the theatre's round stage, where audience members sit all the way around it.

Appearing on The Graham Norton Show, Kate shocked the chat show host as she candidly admitted: "I nearly did a poo on stage once."

"When I was 18, I was in a production of What The Butler Saw in Manchester. I played a character called Geraldine, who is applying for the job of the doctor's secretary, and the doctor says, 'Well let me see, I need to give you a full body examination... please strip'.

"I have to then lie on this bed and I lie there really awkwardly and uncomfortably and suddenly it's happening... I'm gonna shit myself, and I'm lying on a white sheet, naked on a stage!"

"I'm convinced I've totally shat myself. So I'm like, 'What am I gonna do?' Because now I need to get up from behind the curtain and look for all my clothes and I'm like, 'I've done a fking poo!'"

Kate explained she went on scrub up the sheet she was lying on and binding herself up in it as she stood up inside the sheet.

She added: "And I'm still thinking, 'It's happening, it's happening', while standing in front of an audience who can see me from every fking angle. I'm absolutely just convinced that if I move my body, there's gonna be poo on the floor."

"Honestly, I practically shiver off the stage and I hide in a corner and then I thought, 'I've gotta check the sheet'..."

A confused female guest on the TV show then interjected: "Did you shit yourself or not?"

And Kate replied: "Ladies and gentlemen, I had NOT actually done a poo."

"But the second I got into my dressing room and ran to the bathroom, it was like gunfire."

Jack: I was naive doing sex scenes

ACTOR Jack O'Connell says he has felt "very compromised" filming past sex scenes.

The Lady Chatterley's Lover star, 32 (above), added he was "very naive" when he filmed intimate encounters for his role as James Cook on Channel 4's teen drama Skins aged 17.

Jack said: "It's hard to say that you're ever totally comfortable filming sex scenes."

"I was very naive at the time, enough so as to not check in with myself and question myself if I was feeling comfortable or not."

"It just felt like part and parcel of the programme in a very different time than the one we're in now."

Jack, who appears nude alongside Emma Corrin in the new Netflix version of Lady Chatterley's Lover, added: "Discussions are now being had to make sure that whatever was happening that wasn't right is addressed and doesn't repeat itself."

"If you don't feel you are protected in that environment, it can be unnecessarily daunting."

Careful how you light up

ILLEGAL Christmas lights bought online are putting consumers at risk of electric shock or fire.

Consumer group Which? tested Christmas tree lights at the cheaper end of the spectrum online and found 10 of the 12 failed to meet regulations and could not legally be sold in the UK.

Lights were sold on AliExpress, eBay, Amazon and Wish and cost £15 and under.

All four said they have since removed the products found to be illegal from their platforms.

Amid the cost of living crisis, there are concerns more people could turn to cheaper lights in a bid to save money.

One set of lights bought from a seller on Wish was so badly made that it posed both an electric shock risk to anyone using it and was also a fire hazard.

The quality was so poor that the control box could easily be pulled apart by a child, exposing accessible live parts.

A MAN has pleaded guilty to the gruesome murder and dismemberment of his own father two years ago.

Aron Reeves II has coughed to charges of second-degree murder and mutilation of a body in the murder of his father, Aron Reeves, in March 2020.

Police found parts of the elder Reeves's body in rubbish bags stashed in a skip behind a shop in Flint, Michigan.

Reeves II is due to be sentenced in January and faces a life term.

Aron Scott Reeves II was first charged in March 2020 on single counts of open murder and disinterment and mutilation of a dead body in the death of his 50-year-old dad.

Macabre

A local business owner, who did not want to be identified for fear of reprisals, said he had arrived at work and learned that some local tramps had made the macabre discovery right behind his shop.

He said: "This guy had opened one bag and found body parts and said there were three or four more bags that looked just like it, but I don't think he went through all the bags."

Genesee County Prosecutor David Leyton said: "It was not an employee who found the body. It was some neighbourhood folks going through the dumpster, looking for food or something that may be of value – known as 'dumpster diving'." Leyton said the tramps spotted an arm and hand, adding: "They were in different trash bags. When the police came through in greater detail, I'm pretty sure they found the entire corpse."

The Michigan State Police Crime Lab was then called in to process the scene.

Leyton added that two circular saws were also found in the skip.

Police went to victim's home, which he had shared with the killer, and found a manual and packaging matching the same circular saw found in the skip.

Give generously...to robins

WILDLIFE experts are urging members of the public to support robins and other birds in their gardens this winter.

Garden wildlife expert Sean McMenemy encouraged the public to provide food and water to help the birds survive the freezing weather.

The director of Ark Wildlife said: "During a cold winter, up to half of our garden birds can be lost to cold and hunger."

"Robins are particularly susceptible as they remain faithful to their gardens, no matter what the weather."

"Putting out food, water and shelter for birds visiting your garden can make a big difference to survival rates."

Bridges up for selling bath water

BOXING world champ Ebanie Bridges teased that she may sell her BATH WATER to a fan on social media.

The Blonde Bomber (above) successfully defended her title at the weekend at the First Direct Arena in Leeds, beating fellow Australian Shannon O'Connell.

But just before her weigh-in, she said that she is partnering with subscription platform OnlyFans to make online content.

Bridges has resisted the move for years, but was approached more recently and is now involved, branding herself with an advert for the website before tipping the scales.

In a cheeky video shared to social media, she asked: "So guys, how much for my bath water? Asking for a friend."

OnlyFans is known for explicit or adult content, but the brand are trying to broaden their horizons and have signed a number of fighters recently.

Bridges will use her page to have one-on-one conversations with supporters and post professional lingerie photos, training footage and "intimate home content".

Sex law update for Bali tourists

THE governor of the holiday isle of Bali has insisted visitors should not worry about a controversial ban on sex outside of marriage, dismissing concerns Indonesia's revised criminal code will throttle the recovery of the tourism industry.

Bali Governor Wayan Koster said people can only be prosecuted for sex outside of marriage following a complaint by a parent, spouse or child, a provision added to a stricter draft of the legislation to ensure "everyone's privacy and comfortableness".

Wayan said foreign tourists and residents "would not need to worry" about the revised laws, and authorities would not check the marital status of people checking in at tourist accommodations.

The governor also criticised what he said were "hoax" reports of travellers cancelling flights and hotel bookings.

Crypto king nicked in Bahamas

SAM Bankman-Fried, founder of the collapsed cryptocurrency exchange FTX, has been arrested in The Bahamas and charged with fraud by US financial authorities.

Police said Mr Bankman-Fried, 30, was arrested for "financial offences" against laws in the US and The Bahamas.

Last month, FTX filed for bankruptcy in the US, leaving many users unable to withdraw their funds.

According to a court filing, FTX owed its 50 largest creditors almost $3.1bn (£2.5bn).

Among the most serious allegations against Mr Bankman-Fried is he used billions of customer funds to prop up his investment trading company, Alameda.

It is unclear how much people who have funds in the exchange will get back at the end of proceedings – though experts warn it may be a small fraction of what they deposited.

Hiker dies taking photos with wife

A HIKER died after he fell off the summit of a mountain while taking photos of the area with his wife.

The incident happened on the summit of Mt. Willard in Crawford Notch, New Hampshire.

The unnamed hiker's wife heard her husband yell and looked over to notice him falling over the edge of the mountain and down a steep cliff that extended to the bottom around 800ft.

His wife called 911 for help after she couldn't reach him due to the steep and icy conditions on the summit.

Rescue technicians arrived and abseiled down the cliff, where they found the fallen hiker 300ft below the summit. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Members of the Mountain Rescue Service extracted the dead man from the face of the cliff and lifted him to the summit.

WOMAN 'KILLED STEPDAD OVER SECRET NUDE PICS'

AN interior designer drugged and strangled her stepfather after finding nude pictures of herself on his computer.

Thomas Merriman's body was found in January 2021, under a pile of trash at the Solana Beach, California, home he shared with stepdaughter Jade Janks, 39.

The murder trial of the interior designer has started in Vista Superior Court.

She has pleaded not guilty to killing Merriman, 64, who prosecutors say died of an overdose of sleeping pills Janks gave him after she discovered the photos – one of which he is said to have used as his screensaver.

"This was no accident," San Diego County Deputy District Attorney Jorge Del Portillo said. "This was murder by design."

The photos were taken more than a decade ago, consensually, by Janks and her boyfriend, authorities said. It's unclear how they came into butterfly farm owner Merriman's possession.

Janks found the photos while she was cleaning her stepfather's apartment, who was in hospital, Del Portillo added.

Illness detected from plop sound

BOFFINS have invented a space age crapper that can detect illness from the SOUND of shit!

The diarrhoea detector is a high-tech sound system that can indicate when an individual is battling severe bowel diseases like cholera, an illness that kills 150,000 people each year.

The state-of-the-art device, invented by Maia Gatlin of the Georgia Institute of Technology, isolates the tones of each potty user and the data is then processed through an algorithm for specific classification.

Gatlin said: "The hope is this sensor, which is noninvasive in approach, could be used in areas where cholera outbreaks are a persistent risk."

MIMICKING SEX WAS SO CRINGE!

ACTRESS Pauline Chalamet has spilled the beans about the massive level of "cringe" she suffered mimicking sex noises while filming Sex Lives of College Girls.

The star, 30, who appears as Kimberly Finkle in HBO's hit teen comedy-drama series, recently shared that recording sex noises for Season 2 was "much stranger" than filming sex scenes.

She said: "The worst is when you're watching the scene and they're like, 'We need a bit more moaning'."

In film, automated dialogue replacement (ADR) is used to improve the sound quality of an actor's dialogue from scenes in a quieter setting, such as a recording studio, after filming wraps.

Pauline (left) added: "You're standing there and they're like, 'Do a few more with your mouth open'."

Calling the uncomfortable task the "epitome of cringe," she also revealed she ad-libbed some ridiculous lines like, "Wowee zowee!" during ADR.

ON TRIAL: Jade Janks (above) denies killing stepdad Thomas Merriman (top)

By BRAD CHADWICK

news@sundaysport.co.uk

She texted with another man about giving Merriman the pills, prosecutors contended.

"I just dosed the hell out of him," Janks allegedly texted the day she picked Merriman up from hospital, according to Del Portillo.

Janks seems to second guess her plan in another text message the prosecutors shared.

"He's waking up," one alleged text read. "I really don't want to be the one to do this."

Waking

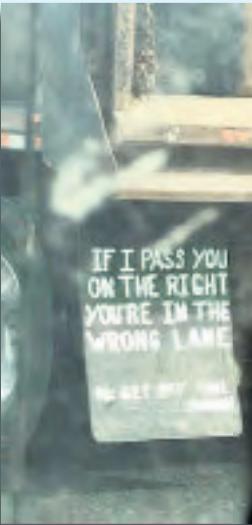

"I am about to club him on the head as he is waking up," another read.

Janks eventually called another person for help, said prosecutors and that person called the authorities the next day.

Deputies searched the home and found Merriman's body under a pile of boxes, blankets and other rubbish as they were leaving.

Attorneys for Janks argued she did not kill Merriman, who instead died from poor health and "his own cocktail" of drugs.

Man charged over divorce lawyer murder

A DISGRUNTLED man is charged with murder for gunning down his ex-wife's divorce lawyer, then setting the victim's office on fire.

Allen Tayeh, 65 (above), is accused of confronting veteran divorce lawyer Doug Lewis inside his Lawrenceville, Georgia, office and shooting him dead, before then lighting the blaze.

Firefighters found the lawyer's body inside the building after dousing the flames.

"It's pretty brazen," Lawrenceville Police Lt Jake Parker said of the heinous crime. "It's kind of out of the blue."

Parker said a witness led cops to Tayeh, who was still in the area when officers showed up to nab him.

"The suspect that was detained actually had injuries that were consistent with being in or near the fire," Parker said.

Tayeh is charged with murder and arson.

AS BODY ART STUDIOS BUCK THE HIGH STREET DECLINE...

TATTS OUT FOR THE LADS!

By SUZIE SHELDON news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE traditional High Street is tumbling into decline.

Department stores and clothes shops have been hit hard by the internet and many were dealt a death knell by the pandemic.

Many butchers and greengrocers are long gone, overtaken by the convenience of the supermarket.

And your bank has probably already shut its local branch.

But it's not all bad news...

That's because TATTOO

PARLOURS are on the up. The changing face of Britain's High Streets has been revealed in analysis by the BBC based on data from Ordnance Survey.

And that survey shows there are a whopping 350 MORE tattoo parlours in Britain than there were before the pandemic hit.

So, to reflect this trend, here's five pages of red-hot babes with their TATTS out.

And their tits, as it happens...

...WITH DELIA ROSE,

CAMBRIDGE

I'VE got a thing for really hairy men - I like them to be very masculine and beefy.

Rugby players are totally my type, and I'm into group sex porn so my fave sexual fantasy would be to get it on with a whole team of them in the locker room!

That's 15 men, which would be like something out of a porn film.

I fantasise I'd be watching the game and then wander into their changing room accidentally while looking for the toilets.

The men would be flirting with me in a light-hearted banter way. I joke that I'd take any of them on and one of them kisses me and then I invite another to join in and then another until the whole team is kissing and caressing me.

Then I'd be on my knees taking lots of hard cocks in my mouth, sucking hungrily and taking their huge balls in my gob, too.

One of them bends me over the bench and takes me from behind while I carry on sucking cocks and they all take it in turns to pound into my wet fanny and even up my tight bumhole.

It's such a massive turn on thinking about all this, even though I'd NEVER do it in real life!

Cop hacked emails for nude photos

A FORMER cop who was accused in October of hacking a woman's social media accounts is now facing 87 other charges for allegedly hacking into the emails of 18 other women.

Ayron Taylor, 22 (above), allegedly found nude photos of some of the women and posted them on social media or sent the photos to the women's contacts.

Prosecutors say that the one thing all the women had in common is that they had email accounts associated with Rowan College at Burlington County, New Jersey.

Detectives with the Burlington County Prosecutor's Office say Taylor gained access to 2,800 student email accounts and targeted the pics of 18 women.

Taylor went to the school until 2020.

He is accused of hacking these accounts while working as a police officer and is charged with computer crimes and possession of extreme porn, as some of the women were minors when the photos were taken.

Real snake on a plane drama

THE unexpected sighting of a live snake on a plane caused some turbulence among business-class passengers aboard a jet.

The reptile stowaway, identified as a harmless garter snake, turned up on United Airlines Flight 2038 from Tampa, Florida, shortly after landing at Newark Liberty International Airport in New Jersey.

As the plane taxied from the runway to the gate, passengers in the business-class cabin began shrieking and pulling their feet up off the floor.

Airport animal-control officers were at the gate when the plane arrived, and removed the snake, which was later released into the wild.

There were no injuries, no impact to airport operations, and the plane later departed Newark, a spokesperson for United Airlines said.

Police find X-rated snaps sent to lad SCHOOL MISS SHOWED TEEN HER BIG HAIRY FANNY!

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY:
Sarah Hull-Degroat

IT MAY BE FREEZING OUTSIDE BUT...

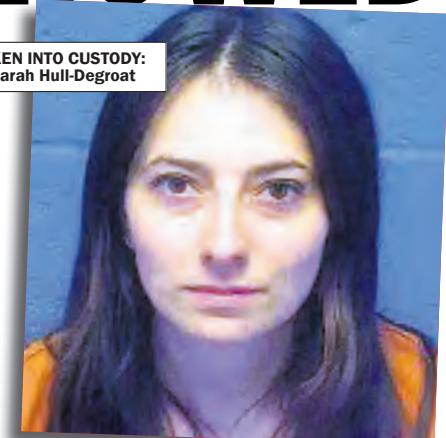

Kylie's all hot & wet

KYLIE Jenner showed off her incredible curves and fearlessly braved the chilly weather in a TINY BIKINI while going for a midnight dip in the hot tub.

Kylie, 25, sizzled in a black PVC two-piece that her MASSIVE tits on display in a series of Instagram snaps, as she enjoyed the snowy weather during her holiday season getaway with galpal Yris Palmer in Aspen, Colorado.

A fan said: "She best be careful when she gets out - icicles could form on her fanny."

A RANDY teacher used a school's internal email system to send a student X-rated messages and photos.

And one of the sexual snaps sent by Sarah Hull-Degroat showed her big hairy fanny splayed open and showing the pink folds of her intimate wetness, police say.

According to officials, Deer Creek High School in Edmond, Oklahoma, uses space age software to monitor traffic on the school's PC network.

The computer system is designed to stop kids looking at porn in class and to prevent online pervs from contacting the youngsters.

But the system's alarms were set off by the 24-year-old's saucy conversations with a 15-year-old pupil.

Lust

Sources said the pair used the Google Docs app to communicate their forbidden lust.

School officials said Hull-Degroat has been put on administrative leave and was taken into custody by the Oklahoma County Sheriff's Office.

A police source said: "The system used by the school had trigger words like 'pussy', 'cum' and 'hardon' that alert supervisors to any illicit communications on the school network.

"It also uses picture recognition software to recognise nudity.

"Well, as you can imagine, the system almost blew a fuse when confronted by a full-frame picture of Hull-Degroat's big hairy pussy in all its sodden glory. Yessss!"

Cops want to know more if the alleged relationship between the teacher and the pupil went any further than just exchanging messages and photos.

Deer Creek School District said they are working closely with law enforcement while a probe continues.

"The safety of our students continues to be our top priority," said Lenis DeRieux, Deer Creek Assistant Superintendent.

Burglar made food, killed dog and stole a hat

A FIEND broke into a home, grabbed a bite to eat, stole a hat, and then killed the family puppy with a machete.

Alexander Hernandez Delgado, 25 (above), has been charged with aggravated cruelty to animals with a weapon and armed burglary in the break-in at the home in Dover, Florida.

He entered the premises through an unlocked living room door then helped himself to the family's food and proceeded to throw their belongings around the home.

The homeowner reported seeing the suspect strolling out of the home wearing a stolen hat.

Police then made the horrific discovery of the family's puppy, which had been stabbed with a machete and left inside a crate near the living room door.

Deputies found Hernandez Delgado at a nearby shop and said he admitted to being inside the dwelling.

The homeless suspect was also charged with theft.

Birthday suit bandit nabbed

COPS found a naked rambler walking through a town in the dead of night.

The police department detailed the encounter in a Facebook post after receiving multiple phone calls from residents about a naked person wandering the streets.

"Yes, you read that correctly. N-a-k-e-d," the social media post reads.

Officers made contact with the person, who is not named in the post, who was indeed "wearing nothing but their birthday suit," according to the post, which didn't specify the suspect's gender.

"They said they just felt like doing something crazy" the post added.

The "Birthday Suit Bandit," as the person was dubbed on Facebook, was given a blanket and a lift to jail with an unspecified criminal charge from officers of the Irmo Police Department in South Carolina.

VICAR FACES JAIL FOR DOG SEX

A VICAR has pleaded guilty to committing bestiality with his own DOG.

Timothy Raymond Moran, 45, was arrested and charged with crimes against nature after his wife's nephew reported the offence.

A complaint says the nephew reported finding video footage that showed Moran receiving oral sex from his dog, JB, in March 2021, at his aunt's home in Hampton, Virginia.

Moran faces up to five years in jail when he's sentenced.

Moran's ex-wife, Jessica Phillips, said that Moran has a criminal past, but hearing about the bestiality charge disgusted her.

She said: "I felt sick. It's quite disturbing. To me, it goes along with paedophilia and other deviant sexual crimes. It's not a normal action people do."

Jessica was married to Moran for several years before they divorced in 2007. They have two kids together, but Phillips said Moran was in and out of the picture.

The two never had pets together, she said, because she was allergic.

Phillips noted that she was 17 when they married.

Moran has pleaded guilty to other crimes in the past, including eluding the police in 1997, and forgery in 2005.

according to Northumberland and New Kent Circuit Court online records.

He was handed prison time in both cases.

He has also pleaded guilty to past habitual offender charges.

Phillips said Moran is a "self-proclaimed" vicar, but she's unsure if he's ordained.

She described the extent of his ministry work to include blog and social media posts.

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

My girl insists on showing our sex tape to her mates

Dear Ashleigh,

I'VE been with my gorgeous girl for about six months and we have a pretty amazing sex life.

We are into bondage in a big way and enjoy dressing up and watching sex videos together.

A couple of months ago she came home with a professional movie camera that she'd borrowed from someone at work and I knew straight away what she had in mind.

I was totally turned on by the idea and we agreed to play our favourite sex game.

I pretended to be a workman who arrives at a house to find a beautiful, but frustrated and horny, housewife crying out for a good screwing.

Slurped

We set up the camera in the kitchen and she put on her sexiest nightie with nothing underneath.

I rang the bell and she let me in. I was pretending to fix the tumble dryer as she bent over in front of me, showing her bare arse.

She sank to her knees and released my hard cock before taking me into her mouth.

And she made sure the camera picked up every glistening inch of my cock disappearing deep down her throat.

She slurped on my manhood and stroked my shaft from the tip to my balls as I moaned loudly with pleasure.

We were both so turned on she could sense I was about to come, so she withdrew her lips just in time.

Without further ado, she plunged her gaping love-hole down hard on me, taking my eight-incher to the hilt – crying out with pleasure as she rode me until we climaxed together.

The problem is I've since found out that my girlfriend made a copy of the film and has been showing it to her girlie mates.

I like her a lot, but I feel used and betrayed and I'm wondering whether to dump her.

What do you think?

GJ, Essex

Dear Ashleigh,

I LOVE giving my hubby a gobble and get all hot and horny when he shoots down my throat.

But he refuses go down on me in return. He says it's not natural for blokes to go down there, even though he's seen male actors do it in porn films.

He says I shouldn't give to receive and should do it because I like to.

I do enjoy it, because it pleases him, but surely he should feel the same about pleasing me.

What do you think?

MG, Newcastle

Ashleigh says...

STOP your moaning. Most blokes would be pleased to be shown off like that to their partner's pals.

Ashleigh says...

TELL him to lick you out or pack his bags!

Coach driver's ride of his life with horny hen girls

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a coach driver and I recently took 30 horny women on a hen night.

During the journey to a city nightclub the girls got merrier and merrier as they got stuck into a never-ending supply of Prosecco, so eventually we pulled into a service area for a piss stop.

As I was about to get off the coach to have a leak myself, this blonde cracker with big tits grabbed me by the bollocks and led me to the cramped toilet.

Moments later, she was sucking me off expertly. As I was about to shoot my load, she whipped my cock out of her mouth, sat me on the bog and then started riding me for all she was worth.

Fingering

When we'd finished I opened the bog door and couldn't believe my eyes. There was now a queue of 10 randy women!

I couldn't believe my good luck and quickly rose to the challenge. I ended up shagging, fingering or licking out all of them.

When the bus arrived at our destination, one girl said that she wanted to be "fked silly" on the back seat, so I took her from behind and all the girls cheered when I came.

Unfortunately, on the way home they were all too busy throwing up to give any more blowjobs, but it was some trip!

HF, Glasgow

Ashleigh says...

SOUNDS like you had the ride of your life!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a married man in my mid-40s and I make love to my wife two or three times a year.

But the youngsters these days seem to be bonking every minute of the day.

We live near a row of shops that include a takeaway and an off licence.

On weekend nights gangs of boys and girls gather outside – smoking, drinking and swearing like troopers.

And some of them go around the back and have intercourse.

I can see the rear of the shops from my back bedroom window and I often sit there for hours with my binoculars watching these sordid goings-on.

I have seen full sex, heavy petting, oral sex and even some doggy-style action – and I think it's bloody disgusting.

One particular big-boobed girl often leads boys around there, kneels before them and gives them oral to completion.

I've mentioned it to the wife, but she just says they're youngsters having a bit of fun.

Should I tell the police?

DH, Devon

Ashleigh says...

YOU'RE not fooling anyone. You're just a Peeping Tom!

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

MEGA MILF Constance Devil says her 38F boobs literally saved her life.

The Czech cracker, now living in Oxford, says she was once being chatted up by a bloke who stopped her in the street when a car smashed into a wall.

And the accident happened exactly where she would have been standing if the man hadn't stopped her.

She said: "This bloke was giving it loads and saying how gorgeous I was.

"I didn't mind. I was wearing a low-cut top and my massive jugs were virtually out of it.

"He couldn't stop staring at them but as we were chatting a car smashed into a wall.

"If I hadn't been stopped, it is exactly where I would have been.

"My boobs saved my life!"

She added, apropos nothing: "I love the cock and swallowing spunk."

HOT 'N' HORNY

TASTY Tricia Passam is one of Midweek Sport's most popular models – and it's no wonder with her fab 32C boobs!

The Durham beauty is always in demand for photo shoots but she really enjoys visiting factories and pubs and posing topless with the staff there.

She said: "We did a shoot up in Glasgow recently, and all the fellas there were great.

"They made us feel very welcome and couldn't do enough for us."

Well, with Tricia's looks it's not surprising really, is it?

THE evil Russian leader Vladimir Putin may be trying to grind her homeland into the dirt, but busty Valory Fleur is keeping calm and carrying on.

The 34GG cracker told us: "If I stop getting my busters out, then Putin will have won – and nobody wants that."

"Going topless is an act of defiance, even though it's ruddy perishing, mind!"

The logo features the word "TELEVISION" in a bold, black, sans-serif font, with a large red "X" overlaid. The "X" has a thick black outline and a yellow "HD" in the bottom right corner. The background is a blurred image of a person's face.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunners appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

RITA CLARKSON

TAXI driver Emet Atalya fantasises about glamour girl Rita Clarkson hailing his cab.

The 33-year-old from Brentford gets his fair share of passengers but his dream would be for Colchester stunner Rita to flag him down.

He said: "Rita is from Essex too so there's every chance that one day she might hop into my taxi."

"I dream about her jumping in the back – I'd love to see those pert 32Bs in real-life!"

LEAH NEWMAN

STUDENT Harrison Kelly is a lot younger than glamour veteran Leah Newman and is desperate to be her toyboy.

Harrison, 20, is studying physics at the University of Kent – but there's only one woman he wants to get physical with.

He said: "Leah is older but in my eyes that means she's got tons of experience and knows exactly what to do in the bedroom – she could teach me a thing or two."

"She's a stunner with a massive pair of 34Cs and if she wants to turn into a cougar I'll be banging down her door anytime she wants!"

MICHELLE CLACK

PLUMBER Kevin Jackson begged us for a photo of glam legend Michelle Clack – and we are happy to oblige.

Kevin, 67, from Doncaster, wrote in requesting a saucy snap of Maidstone beauty Michelle.

He said: "Michelle might be nearly half my age but by God, she's fit!"

Those 36DDs are a sight to behold and I'll have more than a stiff pipe once I've seen her photo.

"If you could print a nice pocket-sized one of her for me that'd be great – and of course I'd love those massive knockers to be the centre of attention."

WILLIAM BUICK

Buick ready to rev up Fanshawe ace

THE booking of William Buick is a clear positive to the chances of Maso Bastie in the Talksport Powered By Fans/EBF Restricted Novice Stakes at Lingfield.

The 33,000 guineas yearling purchase has a decent pedigree as a son of Churchill and a half-brother to a couple of winners, so it was no surprise to see him fairly prominent in the market for his racecourse debut at Kempton last month.

However, James Fanshawe's youngster showed signs of his inexperience both before and during the race as he was reluctant to load into the starting stalls and was very green after the gates opened.

That being said, there was much to like about the way Maso Bastie finished off under only hand driving to finish fourth, beaten only four and a half lengths.

He can be expected to be sharper for the effort, the step up from seven furlongs to a mile should suit and with the champion jockey taking over in the saddle everything points to a big run. Buick can double up aboard Capital Theory in the Huge Daily Boosts Only At BetUK Handicap.

The three-year-old ran some good races in defeat as a juvenile last year in races ranging from seven furlongs to a mile, finishing not too far behind horses like Imperial Fighter and Hoo Ya Mal.

Capital Theory was gelded before his return this autumn and following two readying runs, he made the most of what looked a gilt edged chance in maiden company at Chelmsford recently.

Blow

The assessor has generously left his mark of 77 unchanged ahead of his return to a handicap and with confidence buoyed, he can make it back-to-back wins for Charlie and Mark Johnston.

A rise in distance may also help Cruella De Vill get off the mark in the It's Time To Turn To Talksport/EBF Fillies' Novice Stakes.

The Dubawi filly failed to land a telling blow on her Newbury bow in July, but raised her game significantly to finish second at the same track the following month – beating a subsequent winner in Love Affairs in third.

Cruella De Vill returned from three months off the track at Lingfield three and a half weeks ago and again had to make do with the runner-up spot, this time losing out by just a head over six furlongs.

She would almost certainly have got up in another few strides, so a return to seven looks a wise call.

All-weather fare also comes from Kempton, where Eve Johnson Houghton's Lady Of Arabia should make it third time lucky in the Racing TV Restricted Maiden Fillies' Stakes.

The Poet's Word filly outran odds of 20-1 when a promising third on her Wolverhampton debut and proved that was no fluke when second to odds-on favourite She's Hot.

Lady Arabia may not need to improve much on that to get off the mark.

Optiva Star catches the eye on his handicap debut in the Unibet Extra Place Offers Every Day Nursery.

There was encouragement to be taken from each of his three efforts on the grass earlier in the year.

ENGLAND IN 'GOOD AT TEST CRICKET' SHOCK

Stokes: We've made history

2-0 SERIES WIN IS BEST EVER RESULT ON TOUR IN PAKISTAN

BEN Stokes hailed England's "special" achievement after they sealed an historic series victory in Pakistan with a narrow 26-run win on day four of the second Test in Multan.

England had never won two Tests in a single away tour in Pakistan, but Stokes and Brendon McCullum's side continued to make history as they wrapped up the victory on a hazy day in the City of Saints.

Mark Wood claimed two crucial wickets to swing the momentum in favour of the tourists.

Having started the day on 198 for four, requiring 157 more runs to win with six wickets remaining, Pakistan slid from 290 for five to all out for 328 chasing 355.

Stokes insisted England were aware of the magnitude of the occasion, as England secured their first series victory in the country since 2000-01.

"Coming into this game, being 1-0 up before we'd bowled a ball, I think we all understood what we could achieve before we started this game," the England captain said.

By JOHN ANTHONY

"We're not naive and we know we've achieved here because we know how tough it is."

"Not just for English teams to come and win here but any team. Pakistan are a huge threat in their own conditions."

"Not for one minute are we going to think it's just another Test series win. Beating Pakistan in Pakistan is massive."

"We know what we've achieved, we know that it's a very special thing in English cricket to come here and win."

"It was a strange feeling there, the celebrations at the end winning the series just because compared to last week."

"We've got this bug still floating around the dressing room that we just can't seem to get rid of."

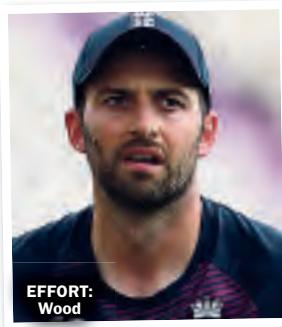

"It is a sign of how tired the lads are, mentally and physically. We know what we've achieved and another great win for us."

Saud Shakeel spearheaded

Pakistan's resistance with the bat on the final morning, playing a watchful innings without taking risks for his 94 from 213, before he was caught by Ollie Pope.

But England's seamers hit the right lines as Pakistan lost their final five wickets for 38 runs, as the hosts suffered their second successive home defeat having lost 1-0 to Australia in March.

Despite the historic win, Stokes

EFFORT: Wood

urged his side to remain in the moment, and insisted that the reinvention of English Test cricket championed by himself and McCullum is bigger than individual match results.

"One thing we do is we stay in the moment. What did (Jack) Leach say – live where my shoes are, or something like that? Basically just always stay in the moment," the 31-year-old said.

Winning

"Don't take this kind of stuff and this kind of form for granted. And always just keep the mantra of, 'we're bigger than what we're actually doing at the moment'."

"What we're trying to do is bigger than results and all that kind of stuff, but obviously it massively helps when you are winning and in the way in which we are winning."

"The guys who I've got in the squad from the guys who step onto the field to the guys who unfortunately miss out on selection are all in it together."

"And we all really believe in what we're trying to do. It's a very special time to be an England cricketer."

Wood finished the match with six wickets and his dismissals of Shakeel and Mohammad Nawaz just before lunch turned the match back in England's favour when Pakistan looked like they might get over the line.

"I'm shattered," said the Durham quick. "It was hard-fought but that's when it's worth it in the end. Two games where the lads put so much in and to get over the line, an amazing feeling really."

"I'm just absolutely knackered. To keep charging in and charging in was a big effort but we knew we were close and that's what really spurs you on."

"To see other lads digging in, you don't want to let your mates down so you put in just as much."

"Stokesy said, 'make a difference, change the game', so that's what I tried to do. Those wickets were key. Nawaz, I thought the way he played was brilliant actually."

"That partnership was key to try and break."

FARE OF THREE LIONS GAFFERS

GARETH Southgate is considering his future as England manager after their quarter-final exit at the hands of France at the World Cup.

Here, Midweek Sport looks back at what his predecessors did after major tournaments.

BOBBY ROBSON

The popular former Ipswich manager offered to resign after successive Euro failures and was told by the FA before the 1990 World Cup, his second, that his contract would not be renewed. After guiding England to the semi-finals he moved to PSV Eindhoven. Robson notably had a spell in charge at Barcelona in 1996-97.

GRAHAM TAYLOR

Taylor had enjoyed success at Watford and Aston Villa before succeeding Robson in 1990. His England side qualified for the 1992 European Championship but were knocked out in the group stages. Taylor resigned in November 1993 after the team failed to qualify for the 1994 World Cup.

TERRY VENABLES

Appointed in 1994, former Barcelona and Tottenham boss Venables led England to the semi-finals of Euro 96 on home soil. But he had already decided to step down afterwards and Glenn Hoddle was even announced as his successor before the tournament.

FABIO CAPELLO

GLENN HODDLE

Hoddle led England to the second round of the 1998 World Cup, where they lost to Argentina on penalties. He was due to continue to Euro 2000 but comments he made in a newspaper interview led to his sacking in February 1999.

KEVIN KEEGAN

Keegan guided England to Euro 2000 via a play-off win against Scotland but they failed to get out of the groups. The former skipper stayed on despite that but resigned after a World Cup qualifying defeat by Germany at Wembley later that year.

SVEN-GORAN ERIKSSON

England's first foreign manager led the team to three quarter-finals at the 2002 and 2006 World Cups, as well as Euro 2004. But off-field issues had begun to creep in and the FA announced in January 2006 that the Swede would leave after the World Cup.

ROY HODGSON

The Italian succeeded Steve McClaren after England's failure to qualify for Euro 2008 and led them to the last 16 at the World Cup two years later, where they were beaten 4-1 by Germany. The FA nevertheless announced Capello was staying, but he resigned in February 2012 after John Terry was stripped of the national captaincy.

WALID Regragui

West Brom boss Hodgson was next in the hotseat and after an encouraging performance at Euro 2012, ended on penalties by Italy in the quarter-finals, hopes were high at the 2014 World Cup. After England exited in the groups he insisted he had no intention of resigning, but left when his deal expired following the humiliating defeat by Iceland at Euro 2016.

WORLD CUP

our dreams and we will fight to get there.

"We are one of the four best teams in the world now and we want to reach the final. The best team, Brazil, is already knocked out.

"We are hungry. I don't know if it will be enough but we want Africa to be on top of the world. I know we are not favourites but we are confident.

"You might think that's crazy, but a bit of craziness is good."

Morocco's bid to reach the final could be scuppered by injuries, particularly at the back with West Ham centre-half Nayef Aguerd and former Wolves defender

"We've come to this competition to change mindsets in our continent. If we say the semi-final is enough, I don't agree.

"We aren't satisfied with the semi-final and being the first African team to do that. We want to go further.

"It's a knock-out game and when you have desire, commitment and the support of the crowd, you can win it.

"We have beaten some top sides. Before every match people thought we would get knocked out but we are still here. We are getting closer to Romain Saiss major doubts.

Regragui added: "As everyone knows, we have a number of injuries but we have an excellent medical staff and they are working very hard and coming in with good news every day."

"No one is out for now, but no one is definitely in either. We will put out the best side possible."

Around 20,000 Moroccan fans are expected to descend on the Al Bayt Stadium.

QPR winger Ilias Chair said: "It's an honour to play for these fans and make them proud. They are the best fans in the world. We are out there to give our all and hopefully at the end, be the best."

IMPRESSED: Klinsmann

Young Lions ready to roar says Jurgen

THERE is more to come from the current England team, according to Jurgen Klinsmann, who says the clash with France would have not been out of place as the World Cup final.

Southgate and his players left Qatar early on Sunday afternoon largely to plaudits for the way they played in the finals, with many believing they were unlucky to lose to France in a fixture former Germany striker Klinsmann feels had all the hallmarks of a final.

"I think overall it was a very positive presentation from the English side in this entire tournament," the 1990 World Cup winner said.

"This game, France v England, came just too early. It should have been a semi-final or the final.

"But one team has to go home and unfortunately it was England, from an English perspective – but I think overall they played a very good tournament."

While England suffered a setback, Klinsmann insists there is more to come from the squad.

"It's still a team in growth," he added.

"It is still able to get better over the next few years.

"So they have a lot, a lot of talent getting better, getting more experienced.

"I think there's more to come from this England side."

Klinsmann, who sits on FIFA's Technical Study Group, revealed there had been conversations surrounding the amount of time between a penalty call and the spot-kick being taken.

Kane had already equalised once from the spot against France but fired over the bar when given the chance to once again level the tie.

"I was arguing the last couple of days and saying, 'you know what, from the time he whistles for the penalty until the time he gets a chance to actually execute the penalty there's far, far too much time passing by' and it works into your brain," said the ex-Spurs striker.

"If Harry had the chance, maybe just put the ball down and shoot it, no big deal but the whole VAR situation, double-checking was it a penalty?

"Time goes by and by and by and then obviously, you start thinking – and you get to a point where you don't execute the penalty any more the way you would have done it maybe right after the whistle."

ALL THE FALLOUT FROM ENGLAND HARRY WILL BE BACK

Sports boffin Lazarus confident Kane will rise again after spot-kick horror

HARRY Kane has been backed to overcome any trauma after his World Cup penalty miss.

The skipper missed his crucial second spot-kick with seven minutes left as England were knocked out by France.

Kane had already scored from the spot to make it 1-1 – drawing level with Wayne Rooney's 53 England goals – only to blaze over the second penalty after Mason Mount had been fouled by Theo Hernandez.

There was a lengthy VAR delay and it was taken against Tottenham team-mate Hugo Lloris but leading sports performance coach Jeremy Lazarus feels Kane will recover.

"He'll have the nation behind him and I think that's important. People recognise what a fantastic player he is, what a fantastic leader and a good man he is," he told the PA news agency.

"It's a big event, if there's any residual 'trauma' or negativity he must find a way to deal with that, rather than keep it all in himself.

"It strikes me, just from what you see on TV, he's a good, solid family man. He's not going to go off the rails. He's got a good support network around him. So, I think it's up to him if there's any residual, I'm going to call it trauma, with a small t."

But Lazarus believes Kane was right to step up to take the spot-kick and not pass on the responsibility.

He said: "In any situation when there's a second penalty in a match it becomes even more cat and mouse. Even more of a game of poker.

"That puts even more pressure on the striker, the goalkeeper in that situation is under no pressure at all.

"It's interesting with the French players surrounding the referee for a good three or four minutes, which I think is probably a very smart tactic. So, Kane had a five, six, seven-minute delay, it was quite a long delay.

"So, that was possibly a factor. Maybe he felt it was he who had to take it because he's the captain so he couldn't pass it to (Marcus) Rashford, for example.

"Because there is an element of that and he is probably the best penalty taker but it's the pressure.

"If you take the decision making away from the actual execution, he probably made the right decision, because otherwise he just puts the pressure on Rashford, for example."

England spot-kick statistics show no evidence to support a change of taker. It is the fourth time Kane has taken two penalties in the same England game and his first miss in those matches, while on the two occasions England have switched mid-match the second taker missed.

Here, we look at England's history of multiple penalties.

HARRY'S SPOT-KICK SUCCESS

Three times on the way to his record-equalling 53 England goals, Kane has scored two penalties in a match as part of a hat-trick.

The first of those, against Panama, helped him to the Golden Boot at the last World Cup as he scored six times in total on England's run to the semi-finals.

He repeated the feat in a 4-0 European Championship qualifying win over Bulgaria the following year and again, scoring four goals in all, as England beat San Marino 10-0 last November in the qualifying campaign for the current World Cup.

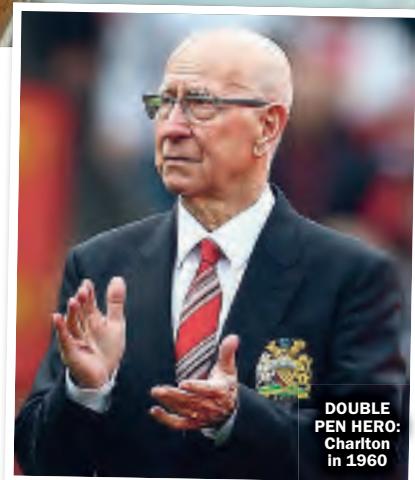

Kane has scored 17 international penalties altogether, excluding shoot-outs, the only man to hit double figures for England – with his 21 attempts also a national record.

Frank Lampard is second on both counts, scoring nine out of 11, while Wayne Rooney and Ron Flowers had a 100 per cent record from seven and six penalties respectively. Alan Shearer scored six out of seven.

Kane has also been successful with both of his shoot-out attempts for England. He is one of only 10 players to take multiple shoot-out penalties for England, with Stuart Pearce's 1990 World Cup miss against West Germany the only blemish on those players' records.

DOUBLE DELIGHT

Kane is the only player to take two penalties in an England game more than once, excluding shoot-outs.

Three other players have scored twice from the spot in one game, the most recent before Kane being Gary Lineker in another World Cup quarter-final, against Cameroon in 1990. Lineker, like Kane, had a late spot-kick to force a 2-2 draw – though that was his first of the game, with the second coming in extra time to clinch a 3-2 win.

Sir Geoff Hurst achieved the feat in his 'other' England hat-trick, in a 5-0 friendly win over France three years after his 1966 World Cup final heroics, and two of Sir Tom Finney's four goals in a 5-3 win over Portugal in 1950 came from the spot.

NO CASE TO SWITCH

Some observers suggested Kane should have let somebody else take the second penalty but such a move has not helped England in the past.

Only twice have England had two pens in a game taken by different players, in friendlies against Brazil in 1956 and Romania last year.

Marcus Rashford scored the first against Romania but Jordan Henderson missed the second, while John Atyeo and Roger Byrne both missed in the 4-2 win over Brazil.

Kane is the third England player to both score and miss penalty in the same game, following Sir Bobby Charlton in 1960 and Allan Clarke in 1971.

I WON'T QUIT

No rash decision from Lions boss Gareth over his future

By JOHN ANTHONY

GARETH Southgate insists he'll take his time to consider his future after what he admits has been a tough last 18 months in the hot seat.

England's wait to emulate Sir Alf Ramsey's 1966 World Cup heroes goes on after the latest hurt in Qatar.

The 52-year-old has a contract until the next Euros in 2024 but wants to ensure he has the energy to go again.

While some reports link Steven Gerrard with the England hotseat, Southgate looks likely to honour the rest of his deal.

"When I've been through the past few tournaments my emotions have been difficult to really think through properly in those following few weeks," Southgate said.

"It took so much energy out of you and you have so much going through your mind. I want to make the right decision either way because it has to be the right one to go again, or the right one not to go again."

He added: "I've found large parts of the last 18 months difficult."

"For everything that I've loved about the last few weeks, I still have what's been said and what's been written – the night at Wolves."

"There's lots of things in my head that's really conflicted at the moment, so what I want to make sure is that I've definitely got the energy to do that."

"I don't want to be four, five months down the line thinking I've made the wrong call. It's too important for everybody to get that wrong."
